

Natural, dynamic figures

Together with sophisticated technology of high quality, we only use the very best materials for all our products. So it is no wonder that our figures can be erected outdoors as well. Even years later, there are virtually no signs of ageing. That is particularly important for open-air museums.

Special action figures can be used as indicators for certain indoor exhibitions. Apart from the more familiar creatures we also recreate the primeval world. This is bound to do more than merely attract attention.

Do you have original clothing or tools? We can adapt our figures to them accordingly. We can also design figures in accordance with the original, using photos or sketches which you have submitted.

We are perfectionists, no matter whether we are creating a huge animal or the minute detail of a dinosaur's egg. And moreover, our figures are designed to last for a very long time.
